

Angela Tang

Facilitator & Trainer

Biography

Angela has great passion in building committed and engaged teamplay. She believes that effective communication and collaboration improve organisational effectiveness. This belief is borne out of her more than two decades of experience working in HR partnership and management roles in various industry sectors: retailing, luxury brands, FMCGs, and hi-tech.

She is an expert in Communication, Negotiation and Influencing Skills, and a guru in performance management. In her many years of experience, she has built up pools of talents and young managers in multi-national organisations. She places strong emphasis on building self-awareness, enlightening and prompting actions.

She has delivered Communication, Staff Motivation, New Leaders Assimilation, Performance Management programmes as well as Employee Counselling to more than 1000 staff force across Asia with particular significance in China and Taiwan. She enjoys facilitating change and bringing out the best in others.

Behind Angela's considerable experience, she carries a Master degree in General Business Administration from the University of Hull in London. She is a member of the British Psychological Society and a licensed administrator of psychometric testing.

When she is less busy with staff development, Angela loves playing golf, swimming, hiking, meeting friends and enjoying various cuisines with her husband and her two children. When she has personal time to herself, she loves working out and reading good books. She also allocates time for community services. She is a mentor and a life buddy to high school students in an NGO community network.
